Here's What People are Saying...

"I attended a seminar as part of the Mentor's program at which you spoke. I found your session extremely helpful personally. I was wondering if you might be available to speak to a group of 100 as a keynote speaker at our luncheon. I really think your presentation was effective and would be right on target for our group."

"I just wanted to let you know how much I appreciated your speaking at yesterday's WIT meeting. You were really terrific! As I said yesterday, I believe you were our best presenter for the whole year, which says a lot considering the line-up that we had. Thanks again for a great topic and the strategic as well as tactical guidance for career success."

"I wanted to let you know how much I enjoyed talking with you and listening to your presentation this morning. I walked away from the session much more inspired than I anticipated!! Just in that short time I was able to glean some great insights about how to think through positioning me – and by the transitive property my company – in the marketplace."

"I was in your audience yesterday afternoon and congratulate you on your presentation. This was the first Possible Woman conference I attended. Your seminar was excellent."

"Thank you so much! I have heard just rave reviews about this morning. I will tell you that you gave me some insight and hit some personal hot buttons — Thank you! Appreciate you taking the time - and sharing such mentoring for such a large group. It was a very good thing."

"Shelley - that was great this morning. Having never heard one of your sessions I was really impressed. Better still I am lucky to have someone like you as a good friend. Both of my associates really enjoyed the session too. Quite a natural you are at this."

"You did a terrific job this morning. It was worth getting up early. Your presentation left a really strong lasting impression."

"Thank you for an informative webinar, I didn't expect to learn this much in an hour!"

"You are so good at facilitating and you shined yet again yesterday. You are confident in your delivery, know how to adjust to the audience, and make your points relevant."

"I wanted to share with you something from today's wrap-up of the Golden Living meeting. The tables spent a few minutes discussing (among themselves) what they found most valuable or memorable from the meetings. Then, they went around the room, and a spokesperson from each table shared what they'd discussed. Almost every single table mentioned you and your presentation. You made a significant impact on this group. I thought you might like to know how much the information and takeaways you shared resonated with everyone."
